St. James's, January 13.

THE following Addreſs of the Juſtices of the Peace, Commiſſioners of Supply, Freeholders, and other Heretors of the County of Banff, has been preſented to the King by Sir James Duff, Repreſentative in Parliament for the ſaid County, being introduced by the Lord of His Majeſty's Bedchamber in Waiting; Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the KING's Moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Juſtices of the Peace, Commiſſioners of Supply, Freeholders, and other Heretors of the County of Banff.

WE, your Majeſty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, feeling ourſelves, in common with our fellow Subjects, deeply intereſted in the Preſervation of a Life ſo precious to your People, beg Leave to approach your Royal Perſon, and join in the general Congratulations for your late providential Eſcape.

N. B. No Attendance will be given at this Office, on the Day of the Ball, after Two o'Clock.

Lord Chamberlain's Office, January 9, 1787.

TO prevent the Inconveniencies which have ariſen from the Space before Their Majeſties, which is allotted for Minuet Dancing, being exceedingly crowded, it is requeſted, that thoſe Ladies only who mean to dance will ſend for Dancers Tickets, and fit in thoſe Places, as the Seats have been found too few to accommodate the Dancers.

Dreſden, December 10.

Proviſions of all Sorts, hitherto regarded as Contraband, as well as Cabinet and other Wooden Ware, are now allowed to be imported into the Pruſſian Dominions from this Country, upon Payment of a moderate Duty; and his Pruſſian Majeſty has alſo taken off the Prohibition on the Exportation of Yarn from Silefia.

[Price Three-pence Halfpenny.]

Dreſden, December 20.

An infectious Diſtemper has broken out among the Horned Cattle at the Village of Stolpen, and in its Neighbourhood, at the Diſtance of about Four German Miles Eaſtward from Dreſden, which is ſuppoſed to have been brought thither by ſome Oxen lately imported from Poland. The Progreſs of the Diſtemper has been rapid; but as a Cordon is now formed round the Villages where it has made its Appearance, and every other Precaution taken, it is hoped that it will be prevented from ſpreading into the neighbouring Country.

Stockholm, December 12.

On Account of the great Scarcity of Corn here, a Stop has been put to the Sale and Diſtilling of Brandy, allowing however a certain Quantity for Family Conſumption, to be had at the Magazines of the Crown, for which Certificates are to be granted.

His Swediſh Majeſty left Upſala on Saturday laſt, and arrived in this Capital the ſame Day, with the Prince Royal, to reſide here during the Reſt of the Winter. The next Day the Nobility and Foreign Miniſters had the Honour of paying their Court to their Majeſties, when the King appeared with the Orders of Ruſſia, in Honour of St. Andrew's Day.

Stockholm, December 19.

Monſ. de Juel, the Daniſh Miniſter, died here on the 14th Inſtant.

The King of Pruſſia has appointed Count Lepell to be his Miniſter at this Court, and he is expected here next Spring.

On Account of the Froſt ſetting in ſo very early this Year, it was apprehended that the Herring Fiſhery would entirely fail. However, after the late Thaw, the Fiſh appeared on the Coaſt of Marſtrand, though not in any conſiderable Numbers.

Florence, December 16.

The Great Duke of Tuſcany has juſt iſſued a new Code of Criminal Laws, which is ordered to be obſerved in all his Dominions. It conſiſts of 119 Articles, by which capital Puniſhments are aboliſhed, as having been found to leave too ſlight an Impreſſion on the Minds of the People for the Prevention of Crimes, and more viſible and permanent Sufferings ordained in their Stead. Torture is prohibited. Confiſcations are declared unjuſt, as involving the innocent with the guilty. Proportionable Penalties are inflicted for ſlight Offences, and a more equitable Mode of Trial is eſtabliſhed, particularly with regard to Evidence.

Soon after the Publication of this new Code, a Man condemned to the Gallies for a moſt inhuman Murder endeavoured to perſuade the Companion to whom he was chained, to eſcape with him; but upon his Refuſal, he took an Opportunity of picking up a large Stone, with which, notwithſtanding his Chains, he maſſacred his Companion, in the Preſence of the Guard. So horrible a Deed, under ſuch Circumſtances, almoſt overcame the Great Duke's humane Temper. He immediately ordered a Gallows to be erected in the moſt public Part of Piſa; but his Imperial Highneſs countermanded the Order for his Execution, and the Criminal was ſentenced to a more excruciating and laſting Puniſhment, that of being immured between four Walls, where, almoſt unable to move, he muſt end his Life in the utmoſt Miſery. As a more flagrant Offence can ſcarcely be committed, Puniſhments by Death are not expected to be revived in this Country.

Vienna, December 30.

The late Partition of the Kingdom of Hungary into Ten large Diſtricts, with only the ſame Number of Courts of Judicature, having been found inſufficient for the ſpeedy Diſtribution of Juſtice among the lower Claſſes of People, his Imperial Majeſty has eſtabliſhed, in each of the Thirty-eight Counties of that Kingdom, an inferior Tribunal for the Deciſion of all Cauſes between Individuals in the firſt Inſtance. As theſe Tribunals are conſtituted on a much more liberal and ſolid Footing than formerly, the moſt ſalutary Effects may be expected from them.
